DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. This action is issued in response to applicant's Amendment A(Papar #6) filed 8/13/03.
2. Claims 1,2,5,7-11,16,17,20,22-26.31-37 were amended. New claims 41-45 were added.
3. Claims 1-45 including newly added claims, are pending.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-45 are rejected under 35 USC 103(a) as unpatentable over Geller(US Pat. No: 6,236,990) in view of Walker(US Pat. No: 6,131,086) and further in view of Ojha(US Oat. No: 6,598,026).
6. As per claims 1-45 Geller teaches a method of presenting information on products and ranking these products(Abstract)(Fig 2A)(Fig 2B) and calculating user preferences(Fig 3) through filtering as well as calculating rankings and scores(col 8 lines 27-48) of products based on consumer interests.Geller further teaches a preference calculator(Fig 2A/230), and evaluation storage(Fig 2A/218) and an attribute.display module(Fig 2A/222) and a product data display module(Fig 2A/220) and product selection storage(Fig 2A/250) as well as scoring products by name(Fig 2B) and placing orders(Fig 3/342). Walker teaches permitting users to purchase products(Abstract)(Fig 7)(Fig 8) of all varieties(col 3 lines 18-29) and a variety of vendors(col 5 lines 35-50) as well as allocating purchasing time for the products(Fig 11A)(Fig 11B)(col 7 lines 30-44). Walker further teaches a product database(Fig 6) and a product description for specific products(Fig 6/630) and availability(Fig 6/645) and a product cost(Fig 6/640) as well as processing orders by customers(Figs 11a-11c). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to combine Geller in view of Walker to teach part of the invention. The motivation to combine is to teach a system for making products available to users as enunciated by Walker(col 2 lines 3-5). Ojha teaches a method for facilitating a transaction between a buyer and seller for a product via the Internet(Abstract)(Fig 1-18)(col 2 line 46-col 8 line 32) as well as a buyer placing bids to sellers(Fig 2/210) and negotiation(Fig 2/214) including offers and counteroffers(Fig 2a) and product searching(Fig 3) through graphical user interfaces. Ohje further teaches displaying products by manufacturer and type(Fig 6) and product details and prices of all merchants(Fig 8) where a customer may bid as well as placing bids(Fig 9) and a listing of bids and asks between the parties(Fig 11) and a compilation of the number of bids above threshold prices(Fig 12) and a listing of the business rules to the merchants(Figs 13A-13D). It would have been obvious to one skilled in the art at the time of the invention to combine Geller in view of Walker and further in view of Ojha. The motivation to combine Ojha in view of Geller and Walker is to teach a method for buyers to negotiate online with sellers for products as enunciated by Ojha(col 2 lines 40-44).

Art Unit: 3624

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

7. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

8. Claims 1-45 are further rejected under 35 USC 112(2nd) for failing to explicitly define the unique characteristics of the disclosure with respect to the current art.

Response to Arguments

9. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-45 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

10. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
